

Opposing Dunes, Opposing Winds

ESP_049481_1310

Barchan dunes—the kind most visible here—form when the sand-moving wind is fairly unidirectional. Star dunes, in contrast, form when the sand-moving wind comes from multiple directions—not all at once, but from varying directions at different times of day or year.

