

An Inverted Crater West of Mawrth Vallis

PSP_009115_2040

This image captures details of an approximately 1-kilometer inverted crater west of Mawrth Vallis. The location of this HiRISE image is north of the proposed landing ellipse for the ExoMars 2020 rover mission that will investigate diverse rocks and minerals related to ancient water-related activity in this region.

