

GREETINGS FROM MARS!

Ridges at the Edge of the Layered Deposits within Reynolds Crater

uahirise.org/ESP_013301_1055

Acquisition date: 28 June 2009

Approximately 261 kilometers above the surface

These ridges appear at the edge of layered deposits within Reynolds Crater, and may be compressional in origin indicating previous flow of these deposits.