

HIGH RESOLUTION IMAGING
SCIENCE EXPERIMENT

UAHIRISE.ORG

Lunar and Planetary Laboratory

Frosted Gullies in the Northern Summer

uahirise.org/ESP_019033_2495

Some of these gullies show activity today with new material appearing on top of the debris aprons. Many scientists believe that these gullies have been carved by liquid water so this present-day activity is of immense interest.