

HIRISE

HIGH RESOLUTION IMAGING
SCIENCE EXPERIMENT

UAHIRISE.ORG

Lunar and Planetary Laboratory

Slope Streak Stripes on Crater Walls

uahirise.org/ESP_025913_1945

Radially-oriented slope streaks paint stripes on the sides of this crater in Arabia Terra. Slope streaks are common features on steep slopes in Mars' dusty terrain, but this crater is a particularly dramatic example. Slope streaks, thought to be the result of shallow cascades of dust, are dark when fresh and fade as they age.