

SLIPPING AND SLIDING IN ECHUS CHAOS

This chaos terrain may have formed as the rocks that make up nearby Lunae Planum slowly slid down hill into Echus Palus. As these rocks slid down hill, they broke up into large pieces that formed the hills that we see today.