

Northern Polar Dune Field

These dunes, known as barchan dunes, usually form where there is a moderate supply of sand and a prevailing wind direction. The “arms” or “horns” of barchan dunes point in the downwind direction and in this case indicate that the prevailing winds blow towards the east.