

The Color Palette of Nilosyrtris Mensae

The region of Mars north of the Syrtis Major volcanics and the Isidis impact basin has well-exposed bedrock with diverse compositions. These regions are dark so the colors aren't well seen except with a sensitive imager like HiRISE and special processing.