

Impacts from MSL Tungsten Blocks and Cruise Stage

MSL (Curiosity) in cruise configuration jettisoned two 75-kilogram tungsten blocks just before atmospheric entry, used as cruise balance masses. A CTX image was acquired at the predicted impact site for these blocks, revealing four large impact markings that appear very recent.