

Columnar Jointing on Mars and Earth

HiRISE first discovered columnar jointing on Mars in 2009. This jointing is an exciting discovery because it forms when molten lava is cooled quickly by liquid water resulting in columns of polygonal-shaped rock.