

An Overflow Channel from Athabasca Vallis

The channel splits into multiple branches, creating about ten streamlined mesas. Vague bumps were visible on the channel floor in the Mars Orbiter Camera image--perhaps large boulders that were deposited by floodwaters?