

Martian Thunderbird

This non-circular pit is due to low angle impact from an asteroid or comet. The raised plateau west of the crater was where most of the impact debris landed.