
Fall Frost Accumulation on Russell Crater Dunes

Russell Crater dunes are a favorite target for HiRISE images not only because of their incredible beauty, but for how we can measure the accumulation of frost year after year in the fall, and its disappearance in the spring.

HIRISE

uahirise.org/ESP_034234_1255