

Which Came First?

The sand dunes inside this unnamed crater have some interesting features: transverse aeolian dunes, bright ridges and dark patches. Our question is which of these formations came first. Our high resolution image can help us untangle the history here.