

A One-Kilometer Crater on the Floor of Saheki Crater

The wall of this crater shows a rainbow-like array of bedrock and deposits. Much of this material has been eroded over time and has slumped downwards towards the crater floor, leaving behind chalk-like streaks of color.