

PITTED MATERIAL FROM TOOTING CRATER

Tooting Crater is one of the youngest craters on Mars that is larger than 20-km in diameter. Relatively low areas inside and outside the crater are covered by a distinctive pitted and ponded material.