

ALONG THE STRAIGHT EDGE

How is the northern rim of this crater so straight? One possibility is that there was a zone of joints or faults in the crust that existed before the impact. When the impact happened, the crater formed along the straight line of these faults.