

RECENT GULLIES IN EQUATORIAL VALLES MARINERIS

In this scene, the gullies have very sharp channels and different colors where the gullies have eroded and deposited material. Over time, the topography becomes smoothed over and the color variations disappear, unless there is recent activity.