

LONG-LASTING ICE IN A YOUNG CRATER

A small crater here was first seen by HiRISE in 2010, and some of the ice is still bright over a decade later. Since we can still see the ice, it must be very clean, without much dust or debris mixed in.