

FOLDED LAYERS IN CANDOR CHASMA

Here in eastern Candor Chasma we get a glimpse of a layered sedimentary deposit on the canyon floor. Some regularly repeating process produced laminations several meters thick that were then bent and twisted by tectonic forces. The sediments were deposited sometime after the canyons were formed.

LPL

HIRISE

uahirise.org/ESP_088251_1725