

Dunes in Briault Crater

ESP_062912_1700

Active sand dunes are common on Mars, and have a variety of surface textures. The “braided” texture visible here may be typical of dunes that are transitioning into sand sheets. (NASA/JPL/UAirizona)

