

THE WRITING IS ON THE WALL

These U-shaped ridges along this crater's interior wall provide clues to an ice-rich past. The curved, scalloped ridges, called moraines, are made up of rocks that the glacier collected as it moved downslope.

HIRISE

uahirise.org/ESP_070461_2245