

CONTACT!

This image captures the edge of a lava flow that partially buries older terrain the Martian Southern Highlands terrain. Where the edge of the lava flow made contact with the higher-standing topography, it formed a rumpled and ridged surface.

HIRISE

uahirise.org/ESP_087858_1505