

RHYTHMIC LAYERING IN ARABIA TERRA

Researchers have proposed that the rhythmic nature of the layers and their extensive coverage across much of Arabia Terra could be due to global cyclic processes, such as dust storms, perhaps involving groundwater.

HIRISE

uahirise.org/ESP_092890_1825