

Cataracts in Kasei Valles

PSP_003513_2055

Cataracts are large landforms, and this special image covers only a small area of the innermost channel. The ridged material on the channel floor may be a lava flow that followed this channel after it was initially carved by giant floods of water.

