

SEARCHING FOR DISTANT SECONDARY CRATERS

HiRISE has been imaging this field of secondary impacts, working outwards to see how far away they formed. This image, around 20 kilometers from the primary impact, has only a few such secondaries and must be approaching the outer edge of the field,

HIRISE

uahirise.org/ESP_082308_2155